Expedition:

Highs, Lows, Laughs Memories... You'll experience them all and you plan, train for and complete your adventurous camping trip.

Participants should identify an assessor for each activity (eg, football coach, drum teacher) who can monitor their progress and write a very brief report at the end of it. If an obvious assessor isn't available for the section, consider how a DoFE leader or member of staff can act in this role.

Costs

Staff training:
This will be recommended if there is to be a supportive staff team in place that are from within the college.
They will be able to train the DoFE participants within the premises and take them on expeditions. In the long run, this will cut the cost on the expedition and training mentioned earlier.

- Introduction to the DoFE for Leaders - £35
This course is aimed at Leaders or Assistant Leaders who are new to the DoFE and provides the necessary knowledge needed to promote the programme, manage a DoFE group and support participants in the completion of the programme.
- Expedition Assessors Accreditation Scheme - £135
All expedition Assessors who attend the course and complete the Scheme will become nationally accredited with national recognition and transferability for assessing DoFE expeditions.
- Expedition Supervisor Training Scheme - £135
The Expedition Supervisor training course covers:
 - Understanding the role of the Expedition Supervisor, Assessor and other adults involved in the delivery of the Expedition section.
 - Understanding the process of remote supervision.
 - Understanding the importance of emergency procedures.
 - Understanding the duty of care held by the Supervisor.

The above mentioned fees have been fixed.

Supervisor and Assessors:
Network with other institutions and this may minimize the cost of the assessment if staff from both colleges/schools supervise and assess each others expeditions.
